To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means to you: When you open an account, we will ask you for name, address, date of birth and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

At the date this application was printed, March 11, 2025, the credit disclosure information was accurate. Because rates and terms are subject to change, you may contact us for the current information by writing to the business reply address shown on the reverse side or calling one of our branches.

If your account is issued under a Rewards or Cash Back Program, your participation is subject to all applicable program rules, as they may be amended from time to time. How We Will Calculate Your Balance: We use a method called "average daily balance (including new purchases)"

Billing Rights: Information on your rights to dispute transactions and how to exercise those rights is provided with your account agreement.

Other Important Information: Your variable rates may change when the Prime Rate changes. Variable rates for your account will be updated twice a year. We calculate your variable rates by adding a percentage to the Prime Rate published in The Wall Street Journal on the 15th day of February (applicable to billing cycles beginning in March) and on the 15th day in August (applicable for billing cycles beginning in September). If The Wall Street Journal is not published on the 15th of the month, we use the Prime Rate published on the next publication date. If The Wall Street Journal does not publish the Prime Rate, we will use a similar published rate.

The only Finance Charges assessed on your account other than those assessed by a periodic rate, will be the Foreign Transaction Fees, noted above. At the date this application was printed, March 11, 2025, the credit disclosure information was accurate.
